Curriculum Committee

Minutes of the La Salle University Curriculum Committee

November 18, 1999

Present: R. Nigro (Chair), J. Baky, P. Brazina, G. Bruce, J. Cicala, E. Giardino, W. Grosnick, B. Millard, W. Miller (student), K. Morris (student), J. Seltzer, D. Smith, Bro. Tri, S. Wiley, Z. Wolf

Meeting called to order at 3:30 PM.

Minutes of the Oct 12 meeting approved as amended (12 yes, 0 no, 1 abstain)

1. Nancy Jones presented the ISBT (integrated science, business and technology) proposal for stage 2 review. The integrated nature of courses with a project orientation and problem solving focus makes this a unique program. In the first two years a number of issues are presented in context around real problems. ISBT students will waive Science, Math and Computer Science from the Core Curriculum. In the 3rd and 4th years, students will specialize in one of the following tracks: Biotechnology, Energy and Natural Resources, Information and Knowledge Management. Seniors will take a two semester capstone course where they will work as a team in an industry setting to solve a problem. This is designed as a 38 course program with 4 credit courses (similar to Science programs). An advisory board has been regularly meeting, with lots of enthusiasm. The implementation is planned for Fall 2000.

It was suggested that ethics could be a more explicit part of the requirements to better fit with LaSallian values. ISBT is expected to have little impact on the number of science majors. The James Madison University program has attracted students other than traditional science students.

Could current students be part of this program? The response was that it would be difficult, unless a cohort group could be formed. Can you minor in ISBT? Not at this time.

How is this program similar or different from that at James Madison? The overall design of two years of common core and 2 years of specialization is similar, but ISBT is based on our strengths and built from suggestions from our advisory group.

Are there additional faculty needs? Some, but we will do more partnering with industry, especially for capstone projects.

It was moved to approve stage 2 and the motion passed (13 yes, 0 no, 0 abstain).

2. Joanne Serembus presented changes in three nursing courses. NUR 474 and NUR 470 would change from special topics to regular courses. NUR 277 would be required for nursing majors.

NUR 474 Women's Health Concerns is an elective that explore various Women's Health issues. There are 4 required topics and each semester students select 10 additional topics from a list. It was suggested to change the term "sex roles" to "gender roles"

NUR 470 Lactation Promotion and Management is an elective that covers all issues related to breastfeeding. The course is done through lotus notes and is on the web.

NUR 277 Statistics for Allied Health Professionals is a required statistics course.

It was suggested that NUR 474 could be modified somewhat to fit with in the e-commerce framework so students could count it for the e-commerce Institute.

It was suggested to add social issues and issue of class to the discussion of NUR 470 and NUR 474.

How do these courses fit in the overall nursing program? The electives would be offered once a year, although with web access, there may be more sections.

It was moved to accept NUR 277 (13 yes, 0 no, 0 abstain), NUR 470 (13-0-0), NUR 474 (13-0-0)

3. Mark Ratkus presented a proposal to substitute MGT 200 for CSC 254 in the Core Curriculum. Margot Soven suggested that this come to the Curriculum Committee. Mark Ratkus mentioned that Powerpoint was part of MGT 200 and would help Economics majors. Joe Seltzer suggested that a stronger argument could be made that the business topics of MGT 200 would be another reason. This lead to the questions, do we to a single course in the core or focus on defining competencies? Should there be other specialized courses (e.g. Communication Skills for Science)? Is there an issue of proliferating communication courses? Might it be appropriate to look at the issue of continuing MGT 200? Given the number of questions, it was suggested to table this issue and invite Bro. Mollenaux as Chair of the Communications Department. Passed 11 yes, 0 no, 0 abstain.
4. Mark Ratkus presented a proposal to change ECN 214 from 3 to 4 credit hours. About ten years ago, the content of ECN 214 was changed from a second statistics course to an econometrics course. Many business and government applications now use the SAS package for econometrics. Students and faculty want more time to teach the software package and statistical issues so that it doesn't take away from the econometrics content. Motion to change was approved, 10 yes, 0 no, 0 abstain.

Meeting adjourned at 5:10.

Respectfully submitted
Joseph Seltzer

Athletics Committee Meeting
October 18, 1999 -1:30 PM
College Hall 207

Attendance: Ms. Kathi McNichol (Chair), Rev. David Beebe,
Mr. Joseph Cloran, Mr. John French,
Mr. Kenneth Hager, Dr. Kay Kinsey,
Dr. Annette O'Connor, Mr. John Palumbo,
Dr. Kathy Szabat, Dr. Lynne Texter,
Dr. Thomas Brennan AD - (ex-officio).

Guest: Pres. Michael McGinniss

Excused: Dr. John Carabello, Ms. Tricia Gauss,
Dr. George Shalhoub, Dr. Robert Shurina.
Mr. Keith Anderson, Ms. Jackie Iovino,
Mr. Paul Thompson.

Ms. McNichol (Chair) called the meeting to order, and distributed the Statement of Purpose document. It will be the basis of our function for this year.

The September 21, 1999 minutes were reviewed. Rev. Beebe inquired about the Campus Pals program reported by Dr. Brennan. The Campus Ministry and the Athletic Department are in contact on these efforts. A motion to accept the minutes as submitted was made, seconded, and approved by the Committee members present (7-0-1).

The Chair stated that the focus of our effort this year will be in the work of the two sub-committees, and she anticipates there will be both internal and external value. Our objective should be to complete a written report by May, 2000, and it will be incorporated into the AC annual report to the President.

Dr. Brennan contacted each of the chairs early in the summer to coordinate a meeting of the DIAR and FAR with the committees as they address their function. The formal A-10 report has been received, and the DIAR is developing a timeline to respond to that report.

President Michael McGinniss came to the meeting as scheduled. He outlined his frequent contacts with Dr. Brennan, his interest in athletics, and his support for it in the ways he can. He felt we were aware of the financial constraints, and how they can be limiting. From his past experiences as teacher, moderator, etc., he has become aware of how his presence is vital and can be appreciated by the athletes.

He commented on the role of athletics in the campus life. He saw it as having multiple impacts. Besides competition and participation in a sport, athletes should learn other skills. They can develop leadership skills, mix with other people (race, cultures, etc.), see a strong women's program, etc.

The ability to be a teacher in these areas will be a strong consideration in the hiring of our coaches.

A successful athletic program and its public perception are important considerations in how prospective students/parents see La Salle as a quality place.

Improved fund raising will be an important factor in how financial resources can be distributed. He is still learning about the various parts of the overall university and the need for balancing resources/support for athletics. The present teams offer a wide range of opportunity for the interest of our student/athletes.

He looks forward to the AC working with the DIAR, and with the President; he commented on the good membership and interest from the faculty, alumni, etc..

The Chair and AC members thanked President McGinniss for sharing his thoughts.

Dr. Brennan distributed a Report to the AC with attachments.

A 2 page report titled Academic Year 1998/1999 listed Academic Achievements, Athletic Achievements, Student-Athlete Programs, Facility Enhancement, and Gender Equity. This material will also be presented in a publicity piece.

A specific list of Equity Enhancements in 98/99.

An outline of a Report to Board of Trustees listing Major Emphases/Initiatives during 99/00.

Letters addressing the Chairs of the sub-committees and the anticipated steps to get under way, and a copy of the Operating Principles from the NCAA (5 pages).

AC representation on the Equity Advisory Committee (EAC) will be reviewed. The original view was to have 4 AC reps, and this was expanded to include the AC Chair in the fall of '96. Evelyn Cogan, Jack French, and Marianne Gauss are the only current AC reps serving on the EAC.

Dr. Brennan reported on changes for the ARC. Student/athletes will be the co-chairs, with administrative support. A program of training on leadership, diversity, etc. will be prepared for the ARC.

Ms. McNichol took note of the wealth of information that we receive in the AC. We can be a strong source and share this information with our constituent groups.

The members of the two sub-committees then met separately to plan meeting/work dates within the next two weeks. They are expected to work in the time between now and the December meeting, and present formal progress reports. The Chair will anticipate the start of an overall formal report in February.

The date for the next meeting will be December 3, 1999, at 1:30PM. Members will be advised of the location and time, and sent copies of the minutes.

La Salle University

Schedule of Events

1:00-1:15 Registration - Union Lobby

1:20-1:45 Leadership in the Land of Oz
Dr. Joseph J. Cicala, Dean of Students
Keynote Speaker - D. Rodden Theater

1:50-2:30 Breakout Session 1

Motivating Your Group

Mark Badstubner - Union 310

You are not alone in having trouble keeping your group members motivated. In this session, you will learn what motivates group members, and you will come away with ideas to re-motivate your group members.

Martin Luther King, Jr. & The Prophetic Imagination

Br. Chip Echelmeier - Union 217

Dr. King's Dream clearly grew out of a very specific reading of the Exodus, the foundational event of the Israelite nation. In this session, we'll discuss how his interpretation of this story places him along side the great prophets of the Judeo-Christian Tradition - and, hopefully, see how liberating (and challenging) their vision can be for us today.

Making It Happen . . . The Power, The Glory, and The Wealth Within!

Tim Erb - Union 301

"A True Leader is not the one with the most followers, but the one who creates the most leaders." Students will discuss the dynamic characteristics of leadership, {i.e. creativity, commitment, etc.}, that value diversity and are essential for creating new leadership approaches in the New Millennium. They will identify these characteristics within themselves and apply them in a group exercise.

Where Do We Go From Here?

Dr. Ken Hallahan - Williamson Lounge

Discussion of the questions in Dr. King's book of the same title. What is the situation of minority peoples in the USA today? What kinds of power are both ethical and effective? How are the societies of the world dealing with racism, poverty and war? King addresses these three issues in this book. The presentation will review some relevant statistics and pose questions for discussion among the attendees.

Use of Symbols in Leadership

Kirstin Shrom - Union 312

This will be an interactive session in which we will create, discuss and analyze the use of symbols in group development and how that relates to leadership.

Are Economic Resources Fairly Distributed in Our Society?

Bert Strieb - Union 308

At the time of his death, Dr. King was indicating great concern about how wealth is distributed in this wealthiest of all societies. In the eighties and nineties our national concern seems to have been focussed primarily on increasing the economic well being of individuals through private/individual means. How do the results of this strike us? Are we satisfied with the society that we see shaping up in the twenty-first century?

Are there needs that are not being addressed? Are there ways by which public needs and the needs of those less able to fend for themselves in the marketplace can be addressed?

2:40-3:20 Breakout Session 2

Is There A Place for Student Activism in a Narcissistic Culture?

Terry Aisenstein - Union 310

On many fronts (media, social critics, politicians, etc), we have decried the growing apathy and 'narcissism' of our culture that has been most noticeable in the past two decades. We continue to move toward a materialistic consumerism, obsessed with 'the self' and ignoring the class divisions within a democracy. Dr. King embraced student activism as early as 1961.

Group Dynamics & Leadership

Kirstin Shrom - Union 312

In this session we will participate in and observe our own group dynamics, discuss how different roles we play help and hinder the process of leadership, and examine how this exercise will help us in our own leadership and management experiences.

Keeping Voices & Spirits Alive when the Culture is not Supportive!

Alan Wendell - Williamson Lounge

Students must be allowed and challenged to create things and environments in which they may be proud. Frustration often develops because results are not immediately apparent or we fail to see the progress that was made. We need to build networks of support for each other's efforts and work to see and acknowledge progress as it occurs. For us to do this we need to listen to each other's "Dreams."

3:30-4:10

Breakout Session 3

Is There A Place for Student Activism in a Narcissistic Culture?

Terry Aisenstein - Union 310

*See Description in Session 2***

Reframing Our True Colors

Daena Ortiz-Torres - Union 217

Gain awareness and appreciation of personality differences and learn how to apply those differences.

Perceptions

Jarrett Roke - Union 308

This program will address the feelings and thoughts of students regarding the area around La Salle and the people of this community. The program will touch upon topics such as violence, how it may shape our perceptions, and how people living in the surrounding community feel about the students of La Salle.

Leadership & Authority

Kirstin Shrom - Union 312

By engaging in various group tasks, participants will react to and discuss authority in its many forms.

The Power of Words

Damian Tremblay - Union 301

As student leaders on university campuses prepare to enter the 21st century, the war on prejudice, begun by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in the 1960's takes many forms. One important such battle is waged in the form of speech and the use of words in both formal usage and in everyday language. If student leaders are to be effective, then they must be able to speak to members of both minority and majority communities with fluency. They also must be able to do so in an inoffensive and non-threatening way. One goal of ever-evolving student leaders ought to be a continual process of discovering the differences and similarities of the diverse racial, ethnic, religious and sexual communities that are present on university campuses.

4:30-5:30

King's Dream* - D. Rodden Theater

A performance of live narratives, film footage, music, and songs that reveal the historical roots and the social implications that led to an era of social unrest in America. An exciting performance presentation that captures the spirit of the Civil Rights Movement!
